BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, JULY 4.

Comets.

The comet which is now seen nightly in the northern sky is an object of great interest. Study of our contemporaries have devoted a considerable amount of space to the subject of comets, and from modern times no eye can look upon the fiery train without being reminded of the fiery train that sweeps over the midnight sky and watch the eccentric motions of these anomalous objects without a feeling of dread. The vast trains of light which are sometimes seen to accompany comets are only displayed in their approach to the sun. They attain their greatest splendour while the comet is in the act of passing its perihelion and as it recedes into space the tail fades away. When near the sun the comet is increased rapidly. Large dividers of comet into three classes with reference to their physical constitution. He thinks they occasionally appear round and with well defined planetary disks, showing them to be solid opaque bodies, in all respects resembling planets, and only differing from them in the great eccentricity of their orbits. A second class of comets comprehend those in which there is a nucleus but devoid of opacity, permitting the light to penetrate through that portion which is by far the most numerous, comprehend those comets destitute entirely of any solid nucleus, consisting of matter so attenuated as to compare fairly with nothing of which we have any knowledge in the earth. A third class of comets have no nucleus and a large proportion have no tail. A question has often been asked, and asked with considerable anxiety, what would be the consequence should a comet strike our earth? In answer, British comets have been and are to be seen on account of the nearness with which it has approached, not the earth, but a point of the earth's path. Beyond, however, a disturbance of the atmosphere, we have no reason to apprehend any danger to our earth from its coming into contact with it. The density of comets is so small that the earth might pass through the tail of one without our being aware of it. And the earth did pass through the tail of one on the 4th of May, 1881. The third class of comets has not been fully identified. The astronomers, however, are at work and will doubtless soon be able to tell us whether there is any record of its previous appearance, or whether it is an entire stranger to which the eye of man is now directed for the first time.

Prof. Tyndall has put forth a theory that the tail is formed by the solar light being deprived of its luminous and caloric rays while passing through the head of the comet, which will, however, allow the action rays to pass through and form a thin, light cloud behind the comet. The astronomer Richard A. Proctor, however, believes that the production of a comet's tail is due to some, as yet undetermined, regulative action of the sun, which has the power of throwing out from the nucleus of the comet the gigantic tail with which most of them are seen. Experiments on the subject are being made by some eminent German scientists with a view to finding out the existence and nature of this solar repulsive force, if indeed, it exists.

The northward motion of the comet is astonishingly rapid. The actual rate cannot be told until its distance from the earth has been ascertained, but whatever that distance may be the comet's speed is frightful. Its quick journey from the southern into the northern hemisphere, showing that it is in the comet's case, is proof of its rapidity as a racer. It has already quitted the neighbourhood of Capella, the star that it first seemed to indicate its place in the sky, and is sweeping onward and to the left toward the North Star.

Learn to Swim.

Water, like fire, is a good servant but a bad master. The truth of this proverb can be realized by those who have never found themselves in deep water, without knowing how to swim. At this season of the year, when people seek the cooling breeze which are usually to be found in the water—when they exert exertion steamers, venture out in small boats as to the management of which they are ignorant or trust themselves in row boats. The crowded steamers meet with an accident, the unwieldy motor boats are overturned, or a clumsy member of the party goes overboard, and the consequences are often fatal. In the majority of cases a large percentage of the males and ninety-nine hundredths of the females are unable to keep themselves afloat, and so the lives are lost—in many cases not only of those who are unskilled in the art of notation, but of strong swimmers who are fastened upon by the helpless ones who, frantic with fright, clutch with a death grip and carry down to death those who could have saved them had they not prevented by their terrorized struggles.

Take the case of the lamentable disaster at the end of the 24th of May as an instance. The ill-fated Victoria upset in a narrow stream of deep water, but a few yards from the bank, and yet many were drowned who could yet have been rescued. The tragedy could they have been taught to swim, or could they have tread water and kept their heads above the surface for a few minutes. Clearly, therefore, as an exchange for the responsibility for the disaster at the end of the 24th of May as an instance. SPECIAL NOTICE TO THE AFFLICTED.

Dr. Williams and Nash

May still be consulted at the Branch Office of the Detroit, Toronto and Long Landing, West Front St., over Overall's store, opposite Glasgow Warehouse, Belleville, on all the various diseases of the Head, Throat, and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.

All Diseases of the Respiratory organs treated by Medical Inhalation.

There is a cure for catarrh at every stage. Medical science has developed new remedies and new modes of administration, until all the various diseases of the head, throat and chest can be cured, with the exception of the latter stage of consumption. Climatic change alone will effect a cure of ulcerated catarrh or ulcerated lungs. They require the direct application of the remedies in the diseased parts, and this we positively affirm can only be done through the most improved system of inhalation. By inhalation we do not use a remedy, nor a special act of remedial, but a system fully developed and endorsed by the best physicians throughout the land. Do not wait for the disease to "wear off," as this is the very reason that has sent thousands and millions over the precipice of despair. This is the time. Next week or next month may be too late.

CONSULTATION FREE and prices within the reach of all. If possible call personally for an examination, otherwise write for a List of Questions. Address

Daily Intelligence.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, JULY 15.

Iron Ship Building.

The Union Iron Ship Company, of Buffalo, has secured all the tools and machinery necessary for the construction of iron ships, and will begin operations as soon as the shops can be placed in proper order. The sheds are being built, and the machinery will be set up as soon as possible. The first contract of the company will be the building of an immense iron propeller for the St. Catharines Journal.

Remarking upon the facts above stated, the St. Catharines Journal says:—"Preparations for iron ship-building ought to be commenced along the line of the Welland canal, if we expect to retain our supremacy as a ship building center. The iron and steel are the ships of the near future. There is no point in Canada better suited for the development of an interest than St. Catharines. We are able to have smelting works, rolling mills, &c. But even if our people are not prepared to go in for the gigantic enterprises mentioned above, we ought at least endeavor to retain an industry which in the past did much for our prosperity."

If this trade be well suited for St. Catharines, which is upwards of a hundred miles distant from the nearest iron mine, how much better would it suit the circumstances of this city, which has the same distance from the iron mines, and which has the same facilities for the iron and steel industry. Belleville is the natural seat of this trade, which promises to become a great one in the near future, and if our capitalists would but put their money into this industry, they would no doubt induce moneyed men elsewhere to come in and take a share in the enterprise. If even smelting works, which are the basis of all the iron and steel industry, were established here, there would at once be a very great inducement for those who will in the near future be seeking the best site for an iron or steel ship building yard, to locate here. It is not yet too late for people to utilize the advantage which nature has bestowed upon the city as the natural seat of the iron trade in Ontario; but unless they wake up from their present lethargic condition they will find that hitheron or some other more enterprising place has stepped in ahead of them.

General Liard.

We recently quoted from the Ottawa Free Press an article in which the conduct of General Liard in public opinion, in which the Queen's regulations were being discussed, that the General had no right to publicly assume an officer. The regulation cited was:—"Officers are to avoid receiving non-commissioned officers for any irregularity, neglect of duty or any other cause in the presence of the public." The private, last they should weaken their authority and lessen their self-respect." The Montreal Gazette, however, marks an important omission in the above quotation and says:—"Our contemporary has hardly been honest in this quotation, as it has been pointed out to us, seeing that the whole sentence was not quoted. The concluding words, separated by a comma from those published by the Free Press, are as follows:—"Officers are to avoid receiving non-commissioned officers for any irregularity, neglect of duty or any other cause in the presence of the public. In a case like that under consideration, when the defect complained of was one which prevailed to a lamentable general extent, viz. the want of skill and dress in officers, it seems very apparent that, by the regulations, the report should be made public. Of course this does not touch the question of the manner and tone in which it was administered, about which there is wide room for difference of opinion."

Editorial Droveries.

The people are anxious to know—and very properly so—what sort of a tariff the Grit party would enact, provided they should be successful in the general election of 1882. Would it be the old Catherguth tariff, as it existed up to 1870; would it be something going further than the Cartwright tariff in the direction of free trade; or would it be the present tariff modified, and if so to what extent and in what direction. It is time that the Opposition declared themselves on this vital question, all that is at present known being that they are opposed to the present tariff. Mr. Blake ought to declare himself during his forthcoming stumping tour.

according to the Montreal Times, stands as follows:—Outwards 1,901; Inwards 3,362; balance in favor of inland for 10 weeks 1,461.

The Canadian fishermen at Wimbledon have done well so far. Their prospects for the Knapton Cup look favorable.

The Cobden Club has resolved to devote its annual dinner hereafter, and devote the money to disseminating works on political economy. These are hard times for the Cobden Club, and doubt their ability to carry out their pet theory from abandonment in England.

Campbellford Correspondence.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 13. The Orange walk here yesterday was a great success. Our village made a very lively appearance. Arches were formed at the entrance from nearly every street, with appropriate notices of welcome, &c. Flags were displayed from house-tops and windows, and everything in the way of decorating was highly satisfactory. At an early hour, vehicles of every description were seen sending their way towards the village, well filled with apparently respectable people. Lodges also began to arrive, and soon the streets were completely crowded. People began to wonder how this congregation was to be provided for, but our hotel keepers, who are never behind in making provision for their customers, were prepared now, and the hungry were all fed, and we were all satisfied. But as yet the Peterboro train had not arrived with the estimated 500 persons, (including lodges), but soon it was announced that these neighbors of ours were approaching the village. Their appearance was met with the usual expressions of surprise, and all were on tip-toe to welcome these new friends. After having partaken of refreshments, they walked to the much admired grounds, (including the Peterboro train), and were given appropriate to the occasion, and after walking back to the village in a very orderly manner, the different lodges were dismissed, and soon quietly retired to their homes. All went off pleasantly, and today our village is a perfect calm.

It is estimated that above five thousand were in the village on the 12th.

Orange Celebration in Tyndinburg.

The 12th was celebrated in this Township by the brethren of No. 2, 3 and 4 Districts. In the morning, the Orange men, in full uniform, assembled in Mr. Long's grove and holding a man-of-war picnic, the proceeds to pay off the indebtedness on the Shawanville Lodge. May members who follow on the 12th, 1881, and partook of the sumptuous repast provided by the ladies of this vicinity, one would think that the debt was almost if not altogether wiped out. A brass band was in attendance to enliven the occasion. A platform was erected for the persons who were called on to address the multitude. The chair was taken by Bro. Pagar, District Master, who, in a very able and interesting manner, spoke for some 30 or 40 minutes on the tolerant spirit of Orangemen. After him Bro. R. M. Clark entertained the audience for the speaking. His speech was well received by those present. Bro. Wray, District Master No. 2, spoke a few words on the way these deeds should be kept by Orangemen. Last but not least, Bro. H. Gordon, Rev. of Humberford and Grand Treasurer O. E. made an excellent speech. He has gained many friends for himself in this vicinity by his speech on this day.

This concluded the speaking, after which the following sentences were given:

1. The Queen. Band—"God Save the Queen."
2. H. M. B. B. P. G. M. Band—"He's a jolly good fellow."
3. Our Wives and Sweethearts.
4. John White, P.
5. H. M. B. B. P. G. M. Band—"He's a jolly good fellow."
6. D. Marshall, G. M. O. E.
7. Lord Enniskillen, Imperial Grand Master.

These brethren present whose health was drank, and who were so heartily cheered, duly returned thanks. During the day the band discoursed sweet music, and at intervals a vote of thanks was duly accorded the brethren from a distance who responded to the call of No. 4 District, on motion of Bro. M. Hill, seconded by Bro. Pagar. This terminated the day's proceedings in Tyndinburg.

JOINT STOCK AGRICULTURE.—An experiment in joint stock agriculture is being carried on in the township of Tyndinburg, composed of such practical noblemen as the Duke of Buckingham and Lord Dacre, and the directors include such agriculturists as Mr. Stratton, the well-known cattle breeder. It is intended, with a capital of £25,000, to secure or lease farms, or to cultivate farms in various countries, and to cultivate them with adequate capital from the most improved principles. Each group will be entrusted to the care of a manager whose local experience will render him specially able to deal with the land in question. Particular attention will be given to dairy farming, and to the rearing and feeding of cattle, sheep, pigs, and poultry, to market them, and to fruit culture. The company will endeavor to establish a complete system of transport from the several groups of farms to market towns, and so far as possible the produce of the farms will be sold direct to the consumer. Many persons here believe that at present English farms are rather large and not small enough, and that in future good results will be derived from small garden farms, and also from large joint stock farms. It is very probable that at the outset the promoters of the above scheme will be able to make capital terms with the landlords, as so many farms are now owned by absentee landlords, who would not only be able, but would greatly improve the value of the farms held by them.

Self, Urtien, Prompt, Economic.—These few adjectives apply with peculiar force to the new method of treating the rheumatism, and internally, adapted to the relief and cure of cough, cold, croup, throat, asthma, kidney troubles, sciatica, neuralgia, and various other ailments.

A Great Enterprise.

The Hay Bitter Company is one of the greatest enterprises ever conceived. Hay Bitters have reached a sale beyond all other bitters, and their intrinsic value found their way into almost every household in the land.—Graphic.

To the Editors of the Intelligence.

REMARKS, DEAR TA.

DEAR SIR.—If you think the following remarks are of any value to your readers, I will be glad to see them published in your paper. I have made a short tour through the States of Michigan and Northern Wisconsin, and the railway trains are crowded with emigrants from many parts of the world. It is a good thing for the Dominion that the Pacific Railroad is building. It will cause the emigrants to go through Canada and back through the States, where they are charged five cents a mile from St. Paul to Winnipeg. They are quite as well as the emigrants of the Western States. They have also Mr. Blake's speech on every railway. There is not a better package in the Western States than Mr. Blake's speech. It has been scattered broadcast over the land, and is read to the emigrants and distributed free. This, sir, is the man who professes to have the interests of the Dominion at heart. The whole of the force if they had the reins of power in their hands once more they would make the Dominion a garden of Eden. They cannot kindle the spirit of the Dominion, and the country is flourishing under the rule of the present Government, and although Mr. Blake and his friends pretend not to see it, there are some things in the Dominion which will not last then see. From such rulers may we be delivered.

Ms. T. G. DRAB, of Kirkhill, Ont., the author of "A Canadian Heroine," has sent us another "novel" of the same name. It is a continuation of the "Back to Back" series.

With one exception it is the worst of all bad novels that we ever read, and that exception is "A Canadian Heroine." It is a contemporary romance, Mr. Drab's, as much about writing a novel as a clam does about filling a headcase.

NO. 73

A Spartan Heroism

the necessity of taxing one's fertility. The tenants of the month are far more likely to remain and do good service, if this sovereign protective is used as a safeguard against their untimely destruction. The experience and evidence of hosts of people, prove this salutary fact.

Free of Cost.

All persons wishing to test the merits of a great remedy—one that will positively cure Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, and all other ailments of the throat and lungs, and that will cure all cases of the Croup of Infants—are requested to call at Jas. Clark & Co., 122 N. Second Street, and get a Trial Bottle of King's New Discovery. This bottle will cost nothing, and will show you what a really dollar-saving bottle will do.

August,

The summer season now reaches its climax and is prolific in developing bowlegged ailments. The heat and humidity of the season, together with the drinking of cold water and summer beverages, a few hours produce fatal ravages among the people of the South. The Extract of Strawberry is the most effective remedy for all forms of summer complaints. Safe, pure and prompt in its effects. All druggists keep it.

Heart and Comfort to the Sufferer

"I have a Household Panacea" has no equal for relieving pain, both mental and physical. It cures Pain in the Side, Back or Bowels, Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Toothache, Stomachic Disturbance, and all the ailments which will most surely quicken the Blood and give its resting power is wonderful." "Brother" says "My Household Panacea," being acknowledged by all the great Pain Relievers and Double the strength of any other Elixirs or Liniments in the world."

Cruelty to animals. There are societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals. But men and women, pig-breeders, butchers, their stomachs are never full. They insist on eating for 12 hours of the day and night whatever their verted and normal appetites crave, until they are sick. They will eat anything that is large, feelingly on the theme of "cruelty to animals" and then retire to the dining-room and gorge huge masses of indigestible food. What is the result? They will die. Every house should keep as a life blessing quantity of Dr. Haeussler's Spleen Compound. It will save the life of the man who has eaten indigestible food until we feel as though we were dead and will save the head from the table or suffer from pain.

Nature Makes No Mistakes.
 Nature's own remedy for bowel complaints is DR. CASSIDY'S COLIC, COLIC, COLIC, which cures colic, cholera, cholera infantum, diarrhea, dysentery, and all diseases of a like nature before they become dangerous. It is the only remedy to the summer season. Dr. Fowler's Colic, Colic, Colic is sold by all druggists and can be obtained of all dealers in medicine.
